MOBILITY OF YOUTH WORKERS

Learning mobility projects of youth workers support the professional development of youth workers by enabling them to acquire new skills and professional experiences. The projects may include transnational activities such as seminars, training courses, contact-making events, study visits and job shadowing periods abroad. The projects also contribute to strengthening the quality and the role of youth work in Europe.

Erasmus+ is the European Union's programme for boosting skills and employability through activities organised in the field of education, training, youth, and sport. Youth activities under Erasmus+ aim to improve the key competences, skills and employability of young people, promote young people's active participation in the society, their social inclusion and well-being, and foster improvements in youth work and youth policy at local, national and international level.

This document certifies that Dmytro Dudka took part in a project called Training 'The Fundamentals of a Democratic Society' for leaders of youth organizations. It was a training course. The project was hosted by Active Ukrainians in Europe.

Within Erasmus+, a training course is a project where youth workers and youth leaders come together for several days to develop their knowledge, skills, and attitudes on a certain theme. The daily programme of the course is based on learning objectives and facilitated by experienced trainers. The training courses promote the initiative and creativity of participants and have a direct impact on their future youth work or youth policy activities, such as organising quality projects and providing intercultural and non-formal learning experiences for young people.

Altogether, 24 people from Belarus, Belgium, Denmark, Georgia, Moldova, Russian Federation, Sweden, and Ukraine took part in the project.

The overall aim and specific objectives of the project:

A two week training was designed to reveal a Swedish dimension of democracy for the young leaders and activists from The Eastern Partnership countries, initiate a dialogue about democracy and create a platform for the future collaboration.

The project pursued the following aims:

- to expand awareness about democracy and its functioning principles;
- to establish international contacts introducing them to Swedish institutions and civil society organizations.

Main contents and activities of the project:

The training course 'The Fundamentals of a Democratic Society' was divided into two parts:

1. Stockholm: 7-days of study visits, presentations and meetings.
2. Visby: 3-day training course at the Swedish International Centre for Local Democracy.

Trainer/s:

Representatives of NGO 'Active Ukrainians in Europe' and International Centre for Local Democracy.

Among the results of the project are the following:

Youth leaders increased their knowledge about democracy and could observe the way Swedish political and social spheres are functioning; acquired skills of project planning. They established international contacts with different institutions and civil society organizations.
